I had a long, cordial conversation with Dean King today. At the end, I mentioned that our group was reconvening this Thursday and expressed a wish that he'd meet with us at that time to explain, firsthand, his present thinking on The Comp Problem. He said sure, he'd welcome the chance--but only if the entire group really wanted him there.

Do you? If you don't, leave a note (anon. or otherwise) in my box and I'll call off his appearance.

P.S. I managed to come across a stray copy of the Dean's proposal to Fonken concerning a new Division of Composition. If you care to read it, come by my office Wednesday between 10-11 a.m. or ~~at~~ 12-1:30 p.m. Sorry, I don't feel comfortable making xeroxes of the thing. I trust you understand.
